

Try new eaterie for a Christmas treat

ENJOY sumptuous festive fare at Number One South Beach, in Harrowside, Blackpool.

Mark, Claire, Janet and Ben, the original team from their former business, The Old Coach House, Dean Street, reformed to launch their newest venture.

The owners of Number One, St Luke's Road, South Shore, holder of Visit Britain's Best Bed and Breakfast of the Year 2007, have transformed the old and tired former Red Court Hotel into a stunning 14-bedroom property with luxury facilities, and an upmarket restaurant, which opened this week.

At The Number One, Christmas gets under way on Tuesday, December 4, with a fabulous three-course lunch at £15.95 (two-courses £14) offering a choice of five starters, main courses and desserts, and served every day until December 22

Get into the seasonal spirit on Christmas Eve with a wonderful five-course dinner for only £28.95.

Main courses include grilled supreme of salmon veronique; oven roast duckling and orange sauce; grilled sirloin steak and blue cheese Sauce and medallions of pork fillet Hawaiian.

After all the hectic festive preparations, why not relax and let someone else do the cooking on Christmas Day?

The Number One South Beach is preparing to amaze you with a splendid five-course Christmas Day lunch at £55.

For the main course, choose from traditional roast turkey; grilled lemon sole with herb and lemon butter; roast butternut squash and sweet potato gratin, brie and almond crust; honey roast ham and braised beef bourguignon.

Bookings are now being taken for the above and for the black tie New Year's Eve dinner.
