

MY partner and I had the great pleasure of Christmas dinner at the Number One Hotel opposite the Solaris.

It was a magical day, totally refurbished from top to bottom, 14 rooms all with every comfort and facility you can imagine.

The standard of furniture, king size beds, covers and decoration, were of the highest possible order. Every room has the latest up-to-date television and DVD player. All rooms are en-suite and the fixtures are a delight. This is luxury with a capital L.

A haven of delight

Yet as you walk in you don't feel overawed. Rather you feel you are very welcome and the owners leave no stone unturned in maintaining that genuine regard for you and yours.

As a postscript I must say our meal was excellent. Starter, main course, sweet, coffee and mince pies, beautifully presented and a lovely table layout was £31.90 for both of us.

My partner and I are already planning a return visit.

Anyone who likes style, quality, luxury and personal attention, will receive just that at this haven of delight.
